

Struggle-La-Lucha.org

Protest mass arrests of activists in Turkey

written by Clara Fidan

November 7, 2020

In a new attack against socialists in Turkey, a large-scale police operation was launched where close to 100 people were arrested. These include Grup Yorum members, and also people part of its choirs which Grup Yorum has in different cities across Turkey. 6 Yorum members, and 7 choir members are currently being held in an Istanbul police station since the 28-29th October.

We invite everyone to create/produce items calling on the Turkish state to release those arrested. For example, this can be you holding up a piece of paper saying #FreeGrupYorum, or a video saying this in your own language. You can share these with the hashtags #FreeGrupYorum #GrupYorumCannotBeSilenced and can send it to our WhatsApp +49 163 4452918.

Let's be the voice of Grup Yorum at all four corners of the world!

Intimidation and repression against progressive, left socialist forces and organizations of the people in Turkey continue with full speed.

Since Oct. 28, the Justice and Development Party (AKP) government, headed by President Recep Tayyip Erdoan, has led another so-called anti-terror offensive towards the popular resistance movement, trying to project its own fear of the people.

By evening, 31 police detentions were registered in various cities and provinces of Turkey.

On Oct. 29, the People's Law Office reported news sources according to which 99 persons had been detained so far, while warrants were issued for 120 people.

The arrest terror by the police continues.

Resisters for terminated jobs, musicians of Grup Yorum, lawyers of the People's Law Office and names of several supporters of the resistance against injustice and state repression were listed among the detainees.

Two additional members of Grup Yorum, Ali Araci (released from prison a short time ago) and Seher Adigüzel, were arrested by the police in their house. It was also announced that group member Meral Hir was detained by police.

Dismissed teacher Selvi Polat, known from the Bakirköy Resistance, was taken into custody on Oct. 29.

Also, People's Law Office lawyer Seda Saraldi was among the detainees.

The list is growing; even some of their family members are targeted.

The repression is intensified by denial of legal assistance and the secrecy of the charges.

The authorities seem to be creating a new construct, as they did in several police operations before: Arresting hundreds of people with terrorism accusations and eventually looking for new “secret witnesses” to strengthen their accusations.

While access to lawyers and the investigation files is being denied, the press loyal to the regime printed the propaganda lies of the political police without delay and tried to associate the detainees with terror.

If there's anything for sure now, it is that these attacks on democratic protest, demands for justice and defense of the rule of law aim to consolidate a totalitarian regime and fascism in order to go on with exploitation of workers in the interest of large companies.

This course of the government will increase poverty of a major part of the people, who are left without jobs, future or proper health care, who are denied their basic rights and finally even criminalized for their legal struggle to gain their rights.

Therefore, only the consciousness and solidarity of the people all over the world can push back repression to progressive struggle and win freedom for those who are facing the repression of a power that fears the people's reaction to its policy, shaken by a deep crisis.

Protest against mass arrests in Turkey in Vienna, Austria, Nov. 6. Photo: Clara Fidan

<https://www.struggle-la-lucha.org/2020/11/07/protest-mass-arrests-of-activists-in-turkey/>