Speak Out and March for Abortion Rights
400 Royal St, New Orleans

In the wake of the Louisiana Supreme Court's upholding of the ban on abortion rights, it is not the time to remain complacent but to fight back and build a movement. We WILL win back our rights if we send the message that we will not let them continue as usual while they attack us. We must fight also for free childcare and all the necessities to bring us real reproductive freedom!

Join us on Saturday, September 10, at 5 pm at the steps at 400 Royal St. in the French Quarter to speak out and march for our rights.

Wear green and wear your mask!
