Defeat bosses' campaign of division All out to defend trans lives & fight racism

Orlando ► Florida ► Oct 7

By Struggle-La Lucha Orlando, Fla., bureau

With under a month to go, the National March to Protect Trans Youth & Speakout for Trans Lives is catching fire. A growing number of endorsers in Florida and nationally have signed on.

The march will gather at 12 noon on Saturday, Oct. 7, at Orange and Anderson streets, near City Hall in Orlando, Florida. Following the march, protesters will return to the City Hall site for a speakout featuring local trans youth, groups from around the country, and musical performances.

The protest will call for reversing the vicious measures enacted by Gov. Ron DeSantis and the Florida legislature as well as their counterparts in other states, banning gender-affirming health care for trans children and adults, prohibiting queer students and teachers from being out at school, banning trans people from using public restrooms that match their gender, and other genocidal policies.

Organizers aren't just focused on attacks on the LGBTQ+ community. They say they hope to unite all those under attack by the far right in Florida and nationwide.

The demand "Stop racist attacks on our communities" is prominently featured on the leaflet and poster, which also draws attention to the suppression of voting rights and repression of Black history in schools.

The protest will also demand free, accessible abortion on demand, an end to threats against Pride celebrations, and dropping the charges against the Tampa 5 protesters.

Stop Cop City: Free the activists!

The Socialist Unity Party and Struggle-La Lucha newspaper condemn the indictment of 61 Atlanta-area activists on "anti-racketeering" charges related to the Stop Cop City movement.

This is the latest in a string of repressive and violent moves by the state of Georgia and the city of Atlanta against a powerful and growing people's movement to stop the intensification of racist police terror and environmental destruction.

Among the "crimes" allegedly committed by the indicted activists are things like handing out flyers, attending benefit concerts, organizing jail support, and providing mutual aid - the kinds of activities carried out every day by progressive and community-based movements all over the country.

In January, Manuel "Tortuguita" Terán - a nonbinary activist defending the forest where Cop City is set to be built - was murdered in a hail of 57
