

May Day 2020

Remembering those who have died, Fighting For Our Lives, Our Families & Our Unions Facing COVID-19 Life Over Profits!

Join ILWU, the Community, unionists, and working people on May Day, Friday May 1.

Our lives are being threatened every day as we and others have to fight for PPE and safe working conditions, in particular due to COVID-19. Longshore workers are also being killed by dangerous containers on the streets of the Port of Oakland, and the PMA refuses to take responsibility. We must stop these deaths, and OSHA must take action against the companies and the port to defend our lives.

The Coronavirus pandemic is absolutely exposing how important it is for the Working Class everywhere to collectively demand Safe Working Condition and Fair wages.

On May 1, working people around the world are joining together to show workers power.

Without workers, there is no production and profits for the billionaires. This pandemic is particularly affecting the Black and Brown communities at a much higher rate. On going systematic discrimination and the lack of housing and healthcare for all that has plagued this country for many years is the reason this is happening. Our unions and organizations need to stand as one to demand truth and cooperation from our Government and Employers to effectively combat this global pandemic.
